PRESENTING A YEAR AT

U ETTYSE

URG COLLEGE

GETTYSBURG, PENNSYLVANIA

Each year of college is filled with a variety of events and activities along with the regular class schedule. Many of these are repeated year after year: early fall means the beginning of a new year, rushing, football, Inter-fraternity Council Weekend; late fall brings basketball, and elections to honoraries; winter ushers in Christmas Houseparties, organizations at the peaks of their functions, indoor sports; spring brings fraternity initiations, the approach of finals and comps, and the beckoning of the outdoors—so persistent during afternoon labs.

But every new year also brings new events to the campus; and every year brings new personalities, and, at graduation, sees the exit of others —the seniors—nostalgic with the memories of the past four years.

Some of the memories continue to live; but others soon fade, only to be recalled when musing over old photographs and souvenirs, or when paging through the yearbook. The yearbook serves as a collector and preserver of the faces, the victories, and all the things that are "college"—Your College.

In this, the 1956 SPECTRUM, we have tried to present an account of the events of the college year, in the general sequence in which they occurred. It is hoped that thusly we can page through the yearbook in time to come, and recall vividly this year at Gettysburg.

Gettysburg College campus suddenly became "alive" again as 476 freshmen and many upperclassmen arrived on campus on Sunday, September 11.

Orientation week began officially with Vespers led by Pastor Korte in Christ Chapel, after which freshmen attended informal meetings with their advisers. Each freshman coed was given a "big sister," who was responsible for her at the various college functions during the week, such as all-college Communion, formal opening of the college, and the all-campus dance.

During the week the new students were kept busy with the numerous tests and the long registration lines where they received schedules, paid bills (or had them sent home to Dad), and purchased dinks. Discussions on studying, college rules, rushing, and customs were also held this week.

Frosh await fate at hands of tribunal.

ORIENTATION

WOMEN'S TRIBUNAL
Sue Gibble, Barbara Burkhart, Nancy Huntsberger, Judy Schaub, Audrey McMahon.

Endless lines and mass confusion characterize September registration.

On Tuesday the frosh went to the SCA picnic, complete with hot dogs, entertainment, and singing. A block dance climaxed the party. The College Communion service was held in Christ Chapel on Wednesday evening. The following morning, Gettysburg College was formally opened with a program in Christ Chapel, and on Friday regular class sessions began the new semester.

FRESHMAN CUSTOMS

The first few weeks of school for Gettysburg College freshmen were ushered in with the wearing of orange dinks and cardboard signs scribbled with names and home towns. Freshmen had to abide by numerous rules such as carrying matches for upper classmen, walking only on certain paths, and using only the side entrance to Glatfelter Hall. "Customs" for the coeds were enforced by Women's Tribunal; male offenders were punished by Men's Tribunal. Punishments were inflicted on freshmen girls at meetings commonly known as "line-up" in the gym. Violators of men's customs were subjected to such punishments as head shaving and wearing clothes backwards. Freshmen boys won their freedom by emerging triumphant over the sophomores in the traditional tug-of-war across the Tiber.

Tribunal members prepare to deal with a customs offender.

INTERIM COMMITTEE

During the past year, and for the second time in Gettysburg's 124 year history, the college operated without a president. Affairs of the college were guided, instead, by a four man interim administrative committee. Chairman of the interim board has been John S. Rice, with Dr. Robert Fortenbaugh as vice chairman. Dr. Seymour B. Dunn, Dean of the College, and Charles R. Wolfe, Registrar, comprise the remainder of the group, which will continue to function in an administrative capacity until a new president has been secured.

DEANS AND REGISTRARS

SEYMOUR B. DUNN
Dean of the College

Dr. Seymour B. Dunn, this year named Dean of Gettysburg College, has been carrying for the last two semesters the responsibility for the general supervision of instruction and discipline for Gettysburg College students, and for the providing of counsel for them. Assisting him are Robert H. Fryling, Dean of Men, and Martha Storek, Dean of Women, who counsel the men and women students in personal, social and academic matters. Acting as liaisons between the students, administration and faculty, they also supervise functioning of the fraternity system through the Inter-Fraternity Council and Pan-Hellenic Council.

The Registrar, Charles R. Wolfe, is the initial link between the prospective student and the college. He is assisted in this capacity by Associate Registrar John W. Shainline.

Stimulating college spirit and increasing athletic interest within the student body are the main functions of Booster Club. It sponsors pep rallies and publicizes athletic events and other school functions, hoping to increase attendance at these events. This club also supports the cheerleaders.

It holds the annual Float Parade during Homecoming Weekend. Concession stands at the football and the basketball games provide money to pay for publicity and some major project which will benefit the entire college. During this coming summer, Booster Club will help to build a new press box.

Top to bottom: Jan Sachs, Wayne Ewing, Margie Schuler, Allene Brown, Winnie Shearer, Nell Henning.

The peppiest cheerleading squad ever is responsible for the spirit at the pep rallies, send offs, float parades, and all home and away football and basketball games. Anyone who has been at Gettysburg for one year is eligible to try out for the varsity squad. Each spring, tryouts for varsity cheerleading are held. The freshmen squad is chosen by the varsity cheerleaders, several members of the faculty, and the president of Booster Club in the early fall. Keys are awarded to each senior cheerleader for two years of service by the Booster Club.

PEP RALLIES

Five times this year students gathered in back of Old Dorm or in the stands at the football field to cheer for the Gettysburg Bullets and spirit them on to victory. Brightly colored flares provided the light for these events while the band played and Dawn Burg thrilled the crowds with her spinning baton. Short pep talks were given by the coaches and members of the team, and the cheerleaders led cheers for the team. The singing of the Alma Mater climaxed each pep rally.

Coeds and their dates enjoy Dorm Dance.

DORM DANCE

Gettysburg's sophisticated version of "Sadie Hawkins' Day" was held Saturday, November 5, in the gymnasium with Wayne Fleck and his Stardusters providing the dance music. An annual event, sponsored by the Women's Student Government and under the direction of the sophomore coeds, the Dorm Dance this year was set to the theme. "Heaven Sent."

The ethereal atmosphere was created with a canopy-sky of deep blue crepe paper flecked with glittering silver stars. Pink clouds suspended from the ceiling floated over the dancers while pastel angels lined the walls.

Chaperons for the evening were Dr. and Mrs. Norman E. Richardson and Dr. and Mrs. Richard T. Mara.

THE COLLEGE BAND

The Gettysburg College Band began the 1955-56 season with increased enthusiasm, increased personnel, and a "new look." Under the direction of Mr. E. Douglas Danfelt, the new full time director, the band worked hard and results were immediate.

Once the students began arriving on campus an intensive drive for members was put into operation and consequently the marching band maintained fifty members in its ranks throughhout football season with a reserve of ten bandsmen. The number of majorettes was also increased from three to five.

Mr. Danfelt leads band in afternoon marching practice

With just two marching practices each week the band was hard-pressed for time but was able to learn the intricate routines created and directed by drill master, Mr. Oliver W. Helmrich. At the end of four weeks the band traveled to the Hershey Rotary Bowl for its debut. With new uniforms of dark blue and just a little orange trim it presented a striking appearance. The show featured eye-catching drills and formations and a spectacular performance by the new head majorette, Dawn Burg. In the ensuing weeks the band, for the first time, performed at every football game, following the Bullets to the Bucknell, Albright, Muhlenberg, Delaware, and Western Maryland games. Highlights of the season were the Dads' Day Show and the Homecoming show which featured the combined ranks of the Band and the Air Force and Army R.O.T.C. drill teams in a complicated drill.

The Band participated in the Fathers' Day Program, the half hour Christmas Eve show recorded for nationwide presentation over the Mutual Broadcasting Network, the Chapel Christmas Program, May Day, and several parades.

Officers of the band this year were: Jeanne Scott, President; Bill Maine, Vice-president; Georgianna Borneman and Ada Louise Kreider, Secretaries; Bill Whitten, Treasurer; Judy Lehn, Librarian; Ada Louise Kreider and Jean Hummer, Assistant Librarians; Bob McClarin, Band Manager.

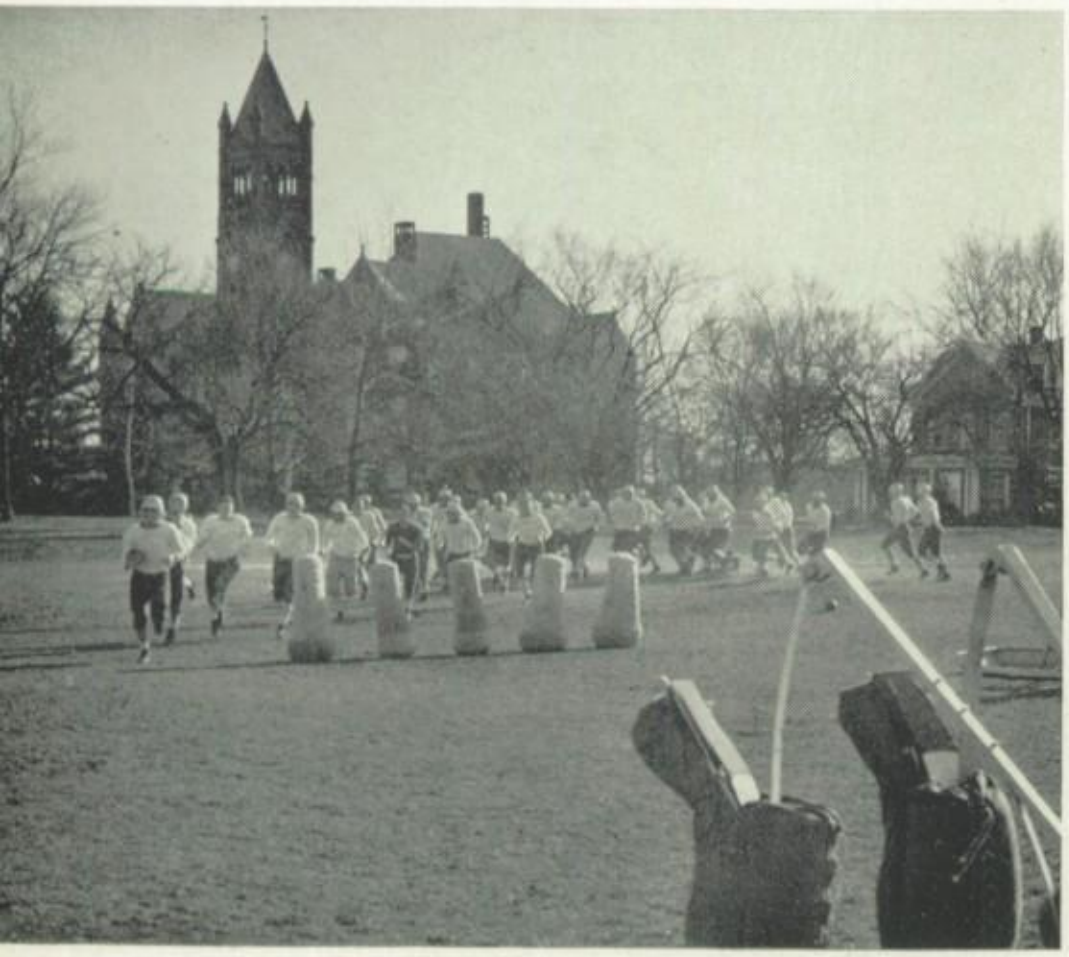
With April comes John Yovicsin's call for the annual spring practice.



FOOTBALL

Coach John Yovicsin's 1955 grid machine, sparked by senior co-captains Sheldon Yingst and Frank Gagliardi, went through a rugged schedule with an impressive record of six wins and two losses at the end of the season. This marked the fourth straight year that Yovicsin has turned out a winning combination and he now has hiked his Gettysburg football record to 25 victories and nine defeats.

Yingst and Gagliardi, both of whom were playing their third and final year for the Bullets, were named to the second team all-state squad while sophomore fullback Frank Capitani gained the honorable mention list. Yingst gained further recognition when he was also named on the honorable mention list of the all-east team. In addition Yingst, the rugged center, was placed on the mid-bracket All-American first team while Gagliardi, Capitani, and Bill Ward, end, gained honorable mention.

Two other Bullets gained recognition by being placed on the "unsung hero" list. Jerry Harrell was picked for his outstanding line play when the Gettysburg eleven was in the process of defeating Lafayette for the first time since 1946. Late in the final quarter, the short guard from Long Island burst through the Leopard line to block an attempted Lafayette field goal which preserved the precious 15-14 triumph. Mike Duka was named to the coveted list as a result of his fine running against Muhlenberg. The senior halfback from Green Lane tallied twice as the Bullets won, 53-14.

Capitani led the Bullets in rushing with a 7.7 yards per carry average. Bruce Pieper, shifty halfback from Union City, Pennsylvania, was second with 6.3 while Gagliardi was third with 5.5. Gagliardi also completed 30 passes for 499 yards and five touchdowns. Pieper led the pass catchers, snaring eight for 140 yards and three tallies.

No mention of Gettysburg football can be properly made without recall of the scintillating play of the forward wall. In addition to Yingst, Ward, and Harrell, other linemen including Barry Attig, Bucky Kempton, Barry De Satnick, Frank Eckert, Dick Lewandowski, Fred Alleva, and Art Hendley played excellent ball throughout the entire campaign to keep Gettysburg's average more than commendable.

BUCKNELL vs GETTYSBURG

GETTYSBURG 27

BUCKNELL 6

Gettysburg opened its season on October 1 by downing arch-rival Bucknell, 27-6, in the annual Chocolate Bowl game at Hershey Stadium before 7,000 fans. Gettysburg, sparked by the running of Frank Capitani, ground out 363 yards while limiting Bob Ford and his Bison teammates to a net gain of 228 yards. Capitani, playing in his first varsity game, tallied three times and also played a fine defensive game from his linebacker position.

After a Bucknell score in the initial quarter, Gettysburg came back to tally twice in the same period, Capitani garnering both on runs of 25 and 34 yards. The Bullets were stalled until the final quarter when Gagliardi hit Capitani with a short pass and the latter streaked 44 yards for a third score. Mike Duka added the final touchdown, racing nine yards after grabbing a pass from Jim Soltesz.

ALBRIGHT 6

Coach John Yovicsin's charges snared their second win on October 8, walloping Albright, 46-6, before 9,000 fans in the annual Pretzel Bowl game at Reading. Bruce Pieper tallied the first touchdown, darting 15 yards after taking a pitch-out from Frank Gagliardi. Gagliardi notched the next score, sneaking over from the one to climax a 70-yard drive.

Fullback Bob Lebo, who was named the outstanding operative for Gettysburg, tallied twice in the second period to run the count to 26-0. The Orange and Blue completed the rout in the second half, notching two scores in the third quarter and one in the fourth. During the second half, Pieper sprinted 64 yards for the first touchdown, Frank Capitani pranced 52 yards for the next, and Dave Hetrick completed the scoring by racing 18 yards with an intercepted pass for the final tally.

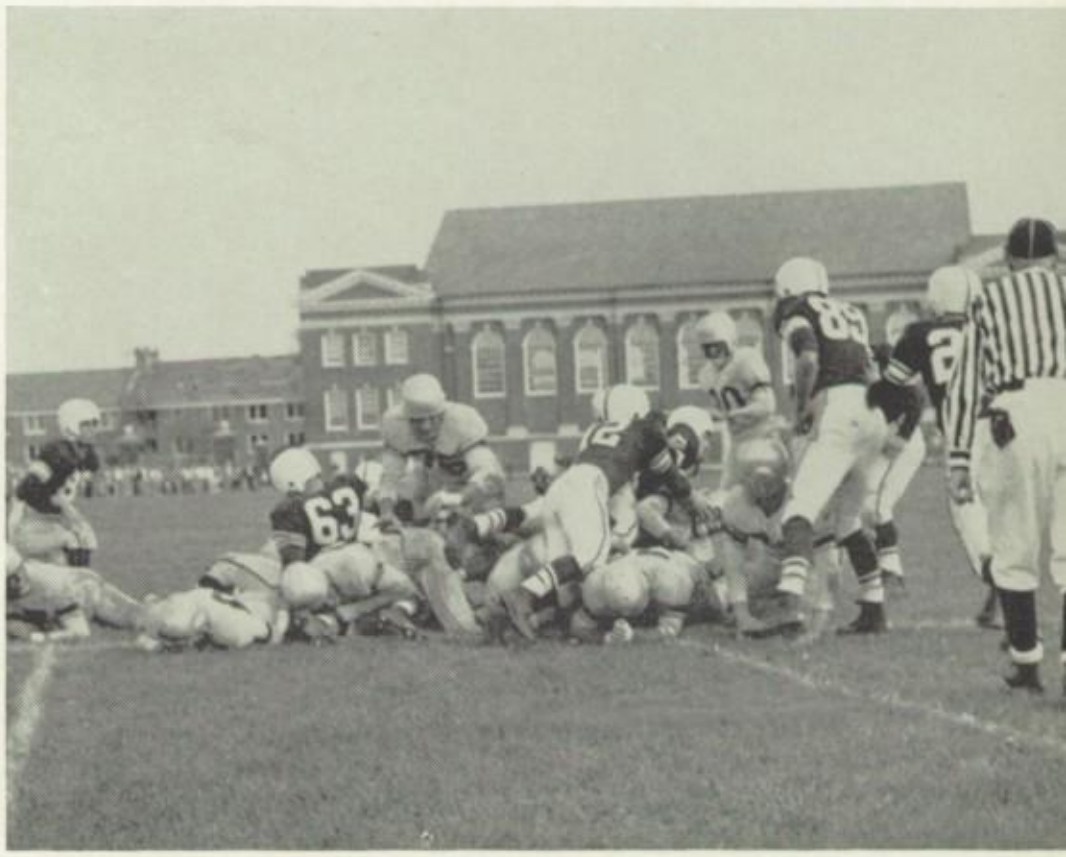
LEHIGH 21

Gettysburg dropped its first game of the season on October 15, losing a heart-breaking 21-18 decision to the Lehigh Engineers before a partisan crowd of 5,000 Father's Day fans on the local field. Gettysburg was the first to score in the opening period when Frank Gagliardi went over from the one following the recovery of a Lehigh fumble by Bruce Pieper on the visitors' 14. The Bullets scored again in the second quarter when Gagliardi connected with Bob Lebo on a 51-yard pass play.

Lehigh's Bob Naylor grabbed the following kickoff and raced 87 yards to score. Bill Doremus added the kick to close the gap to 12-7. Frank Capitani added the next Bullet score with a 14 yard dash for another six points.

Dick Molan added the next Lehigh score late in the third period when he plunged over from the two following a 65-yard drive. With less than three minutes remaining, Lehigh scored the winning touchdown when Naylor skirted right end from the 20 yard line.



Capitani stopped short of goal against the Lehigh Engineers.

MUHLENBERG 14

On the following Saturday the Bullets jumped back into the win column with a rousing 53-14 triumph over Muhlenberg before 5,000 Mule Homecoming fans at Allentown. Muhlenberg, leading 14-0 with less than two minutes to play in the first half, was suddenly paralyzed by a relentless Gettysburg attack which featured the running of Frank Gagliardi, Frank Capitani, and Mike Duka. Gagliardi opened the fireworks by racing down the sidelines 80 yards on a keeper play and Jim Soltesz added the point via a conversion.

After Frank Eckert recovered a Mule fumble on the hosts' 24-yard line, Gagliardi flipped a short pass to Bruce Pieper who ran 20 yards to the end zone. A conversion by Dave Lichtenfeld deadlocked the count at 14. Duka and Dan Hailey each scored twice while Capitani and Art Hendley bagged one tally each as the Bullets continued their comeback in the second half.

LAFAYETTE 14

In the most suspenseful battle staged on the local gridiron in several years, the Bullets squeaked by the Lafayette Leopards, 15-14, before 5,000 Homecoming fans. The tremendous play of the Gettysburg forward line chiefly accounted for the victory. Early in the first quarter Bruce Pieper, who previously had a 40-yard touchdown jaunt nullified by a penalty, caught a pass from Frank Gagliardi and raced 10 yards for the first Gettysburg score.

It required only six plays for the visitors to take the lead as Dick Dion plunged over from the one to climax a 74-yard drive. Gettysburg started its second scoring drive early in the second quarter following a 17-yard punt return by Mike Duka to the Lafayette 27. Four plays later Pieper broke off left tackle for the score.

Jim Soltesz, who had missed two previous extra point attempts, calmly booted a 17-yard field goal late in the third quarter to up the Gettysburg margin to 15-7. After a third period Leopard score, the Bullet line stopped the visitors to preserve the narrow margin of victory.

DELAWARE 36

Gettysburg was handed its worst defeat in several campaigns on November 5 when the Bullets bowed, 36-0, to Dave Nelson's Delaware Blue Hens at Newark, Delaware, before 7,000 fans. Plagued by injuries to such key performers as co-captains Sheldon Yingst and Frank Gagliardi, the Bullets were never able to start anything resembling an offense against the fired-up Delaware line.

Delaware took an early 2-0 lead when Gagliardi was trapped in his own end zone while attempting to pass. The Blue Hens took the following kickoff and immediately drove for the score which upped the count to 9-0. Fullback Andy Wagner garnered three scores while Bob Hooper and Dick Jarome each tallied once to complete the rout.

GETTYSBURG 34

WESTERN MARYLAND 7

Coach John Yovicsin's team, operating without the services of veterans Sheldon Yingst and Frank Gagliardi, had little trouble getting back into the win column on November 12 as Western Maryland was smothered, 34-7 at Westminster.

Frank Capitani opened the scoring in the first period when he ran over from the seven following a fumble recovery by Bucky Kempton on the Terror 29. The locals increased their margin to 14-0 several minutes later on a pass play from Jim Soltesz to Bill Ward covering 62 yards.

Gettysburg left the field at halftime with a 27-0 lead as a result of two second-quarter touchdowns. Chike Heverly scored the first on a 3-yard sneak while Ernie Paliszewski sped 82 yards with a kickoff for the second tally. Capitani completed the scoring by prancing 60 yards for the fifth touchdown in the third quarter.

FRANKLIN AND MARSHALL . . . 0

Halfback Bruce Pieper and center Sheldon Yingst sparked the Bullets to a 46-0 rout of Franklin and Marshall on November 19 as Gettysburg "rang down the curtain" on the 1955 season. Pieper gained 105 yards on five carries and scored two touchdowns while Yingst set up three tallies with a key block, an intercepted pass, and a fumble recovery.

Senior quarterback Jim Soltesz opened the scoring on snow-covered Eddie Plank Field in the first quarter by going over from the one to cap an 80-yard drive. Gettysburg scored two more first-half touchdowns, Frank Capitani going 35 yards for the first while Pieper scored the second on a pass from Soltesz. Gettysburg completed the one-sided contest in the second half as Mike Duka, Bill Morrow, Bob Lebo, and Pieper each tallied once.

Under the tutelage of Coach Bob Davies, who made his debut at the helm of the Bullet booters, the Gettysburg College soccer team posted a 2-8 record for the season. Graduation losses and lack of experience were overcome with hustle and determination as the squad embarked on a rugged schedule which included such perennial powers as Temple, Johns Hopkins, and Franklin and Marshall, plus traditional rivals Bucknell, Lehigh, and Western Maryland.

The booters traveled to Elizabethtown for their initial encounter and came out on the short end of a 3-1 score. Sophomore Ed Marsden saved a Bullet shutout with a second quarter goal. Continuing on the road, Gettysburg lost a heartbreaker to a fine Johns Hopkins team 2-1. The Bullets fell behind 2-0 at the half, but despite a tremendous second half comeback were able to garner only one score.

Lehigh became the first Bullet victim of the season as the Engineers fell 2-1 as the Bullets made their first home appearance before a large Father's Day crowd. Sophomore John Farquhar gave indication of brighter fortunes in the future as he kicked two first half goals to give the Bullets a lead they never relinquished. Particularly outstanding was the Bullet defense which displayed fine teamwork in thwarting Lehigh threats late in the game.

A trip below the Mason-Dixon line proved unsuccessful as Washington College edged the Bullet squad 1-0. The Shoremen scored early and then threw up a fine defense to protect their slim margin. Goals by Farquhar and captain Bob Senft were not enough as Bucknell's Bisons downed the Bullets 5-3 on the home field.

Taking to the road once more, Gettysburg turned in its best showing of the year and upset a highly favored Franklin and Marshall team 2-0. The Bullets opened fast with two first period goals, and then played a great defensive game throughout the contest to hold the Diplomats scoreless.

Continuing on the road, the Bullets booters proved no match for Drexel Tech as the home team defeated the Orange and Blue 6-3. The Drexel booters scored freely in every period to build up a safe margin and send the Bullets to their fifth defeat. The Green Terrors of Western Maryland were the next Bullet opponent, and Gettysburg trailed from the beginning to go down to its sixth loss by a 5-3 score.

In the final home appearance of the season for the Bullets, Wilkes College held off a late Gettysburg rally to edge the Orange and Blue eleven 3-2. Traveling to Philadelphia for the final game of the season, the Bullet booters fell to a strong Temple eleven 2-0.

Particularly outstanding during the season was the stalwart play of captain Bob Senft, Laverne Cook, and Fred Fuhrmeister. Also coming in for praise were sophomores John Farquhar and Dave Byrne, a standout goalie. The frosh booters, although dropping a pair of decisions to Mercersburg, showed promise for next year.

Bullettes about to score goal.

The tranquility of summer was broken by the crack of wooden sticks and the white flash of speeding balls as the long-awaited hockey season dawned on the Gettysburg College campus. This year Coach Kenney's tunic-clad Varsity Bullettes and the Junior Varsity team, under the capable direction of Miss Faye Luckenbill, challenged fourteen teams, finishing with a 7-7 record. Together they tallied 32 goals compared to the opponents' 28. The average score per game for the G-burg lassies was 2.4 goals.

Journeying to Harrisburg, the Orange and Blue dropped the season's opener 3-0 to the Harrisburg Hockey Club. A slippery field made passing difficult, and the Bullettes were held scoreless. The G-burg eleven fell into the loss column again by bowing to a score of 3-2 to an aggressive Lock Haven host. Traveling to foreign territory once more the Bullettes earned their first victory by overpowering Elizabethtown 4-2. Miss Luckenbill's proteges played their initial game and came through with another defeat for E-town 4-0.

Father's Day Weekend found both the Varsity and J.V. clubs perfect hostesses toasting the fathers with 6-1 and 1-0 wins respectively, and thus defeating the Wilson College aggregations. Although the Millersville team emerged victorious 2-1, the J.V.'s trounced the Marauders bringing their tally to three wins and no losses. The G-burg lassies displayed their talents in the encounter with Temple, but the exceptional Orange and Blue teamwork lacked power and the Bullettes were able to fire only one goal, leaving the score 5-1. East Stroudsburg played host to the Gettysburg squad and dealt a 1-0 defeat. The Bullette squads literally crippled the Shippensburg teams when both the Varsity and J.V. squads charged through the opponents' defense to produce 3-1 victories. The official season closed with Ursinus College defeating the Bullettes 6-2 at the final whistle.

Although the Junior Varsity squad terminated its season with a 3-1 loss to Lebanon Valley College, it ended the year with four wins and one loss, a record of commendable significance for the second season of J.V. hockey.

Individual players competed for positions on the two Central Pennsylvania Team tournaments held at Bucknell and Shippensburg, and the Mid-East tournament at Pittsburgh. Nine girls traveled to the Bucknell tournament, eight to the tournament at Shippensburg, and six to the Pittsburgh tournament. Arlene Van Artsdalen was successful at Pittsburgh, enabling her to compete as a member of the Mid-East Second Team at Wilson, scene of the National Hockey Tournament.

HOMECOMING WEEKEND

Intermittent showers did not dampen the spirits of Gettysburgians, past and present, who packed the Eddie Plank Memorial Stadium to view the Bullets' 15-14 victory over the Lafayette Leopards on Homecoming Weekend.

Alpha Tau Omega took first place in the float parade with "Let's Uncork a Victory." As the cork was shot from their green champagne bottle, confetti was scattered into the huge cocktail glass placed to the rear of the float directly under the tilted bottle. Second honors went to Phi Kappa Psi, celebrating the hundredth year of its founding. The theme of the float was "1855-1955 and Still Growing" featuring a replica of Miller Hall, built in 1882 on the campus and which today is the oldest active fraternity house in the country.

During the half time, the Gettysburg College Band and the Army and Air ROTC Drill teams combined to thrill spectators with precision marching. In honor of all the alums present, the Band played "There's No Place Like Home."

Following the game, receptions were held in the various fraternity houses and sorority rooms. Alums brought back their spouses, children, and news of other grads for an old-time G-burg get-together. A worship service in Christ Chapel on Sunday morning brought the Homecoming weekend to a close.

IKE COMES HOME TO G-BURG

When President Dwight D. Eisenhower, members of the White House Staff, and over fifty press representatives came to Gettysburg last November 12, newspaper headlines all over the world read, "Gettysburg, Capitol of the United States." That day marked the beginning of six weeks of intensive nationwide publicity which affected both the town and the College.

Needing a large room in a building set apart from traffic and street noises, television officials accepted the College's offer to use the main office of the College president in Glatfelter Hall. College journalists were given the unprecedented opportunity of mingling with reporters acknowledged as the best in American professional news writing.

Volunteers from the Student Senate served as ushers at each press conference. Their duties were to admit only those with accredited cards and to keep out the mob of spectators. During that six-week period Gettysburgians were seeing themselves in movie and television newsreels and on the front pages of every top newspaper in the country. On one occasion a member of the Gettysburgian and Mr. John Rice, president of the Interim Committee, debated the possibility of Mr. Eisenhower's becoming president of the College should he not seek reelection. This debate was filmed and later viewed on television as a short.

FATHER'S WEEKEND

A memorable weekend for G-Burg fathers began on October 15 with a visit to classes, followed by hockey and soccer games. The next highlight of the weekend brought football fans to the stands to view a thrilling game with Lehigh, the Engineers defeating the Bullets by a score of 21-18. On Saturday evening parents and students gathered in the gym for the annual Father's Day assembly. The Father of the Year Award was presented to John A. Apple, a graduate of the class of 1919, by Dick Hockenbury. On Sunday morning trumpeters heralded students and their families to a worship service in Christ Chapel, concluding Gettysburg's 33rd annual Father's Weekend.

I. F. C. BALL

Gettysburg College students and their dates danced to the music of Art Mooney and his orchestra, of "Honey Babe" fame, at the Inter-Fraternity Council Ball in Eddie Plank Gymnasium, on the evening of November 18.

Large reproductions of the coat of arms of each campus fraternity edged the dance floor, effectively depicting the theme, "Fraternity Heraldry." Two revolving crystal balls, suspended from the ceiling, cast sparkling reflections over the crepe paper ceiling and the dancers.

The highlight of the evening was the crowning of the Inter-Fraternity Council Queen, Jane Bannister, by the Inter-Fraternity Council president, Richard Gaenzle, while Dean Seymour B. Dunn read the proclamation. The Queen's Court included Barbara Binns, Ellen Buchanan, Elaine Derham, Deborah Stelzer, Jan Sachs, and Margie Schuler.

Jane Bannister, the Inter-Fraternity Council Queen, was escorted to the Athletic field Saturday afternoon by the Air Force ROTC Drill Team to view the Franklin & Marshall vs. Gettysburg football game. At half time she was presented with a sterling silver plaque by the Inter-Fraternity Council.

At the informal Saturday night dance Stan Rubin and his Tigertown Five entertained Gettysburg Jazz enthusiasts with two hours of Dixieland Jazz. The evening was climaxed by two hours of dance music, as another wonderful weekend on the College calendar came to a close.

CHARLIE NASH . . . . . Vice-President
BOB KAISER . . . . . Secretary
BOB GILCHRIST . . . . . Treasurer

This year, for the second time, Gettysburg's Inter-Fraternity Council was presented with an award for being the best organization in its class. Dick Gaenzle and Deane Bornheimer, together with adviser Dean Robert Fryling, received the award at the National Inter-Fraternity Conference held this year in St. Louis, Missouri.

Composed of one representative from each fraternity, and advisers Dean Robert Fryling and Dr. Frank Kramer, the council meets every other week to discuss problems and projects.

Each fall the council sponsors the Inter-Fraternity Council Dance, and, in the spring, Inter-Fraternity Council Weekend, at which time the fraternities present skits and songs.

Composed of two members from each sorority—a senior representative and a junior representative—an alumni adviser from each group, and Dean Martha Storek as head adviser, the Pan-Hellenic Council meets the final Tuesday of each month to discuss problems and promote cooperation among the sororities.

The council provides a booklet on rushing, containing an introduction to the sororities, which is distributed to the incoming freshmen each fall in order to acquaint them with the rush rules.

A new project of the council this year was a Pan-Hellenic open house, held in the sorority rooms and sponsored jointly by the five sororities.

Seated. Allene Brown, Jean Eckert, Lou Armstrong, Kitty Baker. Standing: Paula Boyer, Joan Schick, Mary Ann Sulzer, Jeannette Zulick, Winnie Shearer.

Capitani and Ward get set to rebound

Hockenbury drives in for lay up against Scranton

In his first season at the helm of the Gettysburg cagers, Coach Bob Davies directed the Bullet dribblers to a respectable 11-12 season. Al Teti, Bob Walsack and Frank Capitani carried the scoring load while Captain Dick Hockenbury and Joe Bierly were clearing the backboards.

Lack of height and ability to hit from the outside proved costly to the Bullets during the early part of the season, but Dick Hockenbury later proved a terror under the boards as he led the team in rebounding, grabbing as many as 27 in the second Dickinson tilt.

The Bullets opened the season by losing to a sharp Elizabethtown quintet 88-64. However, Gettysburg continued their home schedule by upsetting a favored Lebanon Valley squad 73-70 in a fast moving encounter. Journeying to the Palestra in Philadelphia, Gettysburg fell victim to nationally ranked Temple University 74-53.

Continuing on the road, the Bullet cagers edged Western Maryland 66-60 before losing a close verdict to Albright. Led by Navy's Don Lange and Holy Cross's Ron Perry, Quantico's Marines outscored the Bullets 92-69 in a home tilt in Plank Gymnasium.

Before the Christmas holidays, Gettysburg lost their second encounter to Temple by 72-53 and then garnered a road victory over Johns Hopkins University. Davies' men earned their third victory of the season as they edged Scranton 48-44 in a loosely played game. Ahead 33-26 at halftime, the Bullets were able to score only 15 points throughout the entire second half while the visitors could account for only 18 themselves.

Taking to the road once more, Lebanon Valley gained revenge for an earlier defeat at the hands of the Bullets to defeat Gettysburg 87-65. Gettysburg then lost its seventh game of the year by losing to Bucknell 79-68. The Bullets had played their best game of the year in the first half against the Bisons, but fell completely apart in the second stanza as Bucknell overcame a 45-28 disadvantage at halftime to gain the win. Once more in the friendly confines of Plank Gymnasium, G-burg came from behind to defeat Lehigh's Engineers 76-69.

Journeying to Lancaster, Franklin & Marshall cut short a closing Bullet rally in the final minutes of play to win 76-73. Al Teti was high man for the Bullets, collecting 25 points. At home once more, Gettysburg finally hit the peak and scored a major upset as Al Teti bucketed 42 points in leading his Orange and Blue team mates to a stunning 100-94 conquest of powerful Muhlenburg. The Bullets led at half time 48-42 and finally went ahead for good at 70-68 midway the final half. Teti's 42 points broke the old school record of 38 points for one game set by the great Bill Snyder last year.

The Gettysburg joy was short-lived however, as the team went into a two-game losing streak by dropping successive tilts to Lehigh and Navy. The Engineers gained revenge with a 91-75 score in Bethlehem. Traveling down to Annapolis, Maryland, to the Naval Academy, the Bullets suffered a "cold" day from the floor and fell to the Middie 73-44. The game was marred by many personal fouls and sloppy ball handling on the part of both teams. Next Gettysburg played host to Bucknell and this time outscored the Bisons 87-77. Bob Walsack led the Bullets in scoring with 27 tallies as they jumped off to an early lead and maintained a safe margin to register their seventh win of the season against 10 defeats.

Once again Gettysburg rose to a seemingly impossible height as the Bullets upset a favored Juniata quintet 93-76 in a road game at Huntingdon, Pennsylvania. With Al Teti leading the way with 30 points, no less than five Orange and Blue regulars hit in double figures to lead the onslaught. The Bullets had an exceptional night from the floor, hitting on 57% of their shots while grabbing 57 rebounds.

Dickinson's Red Devils were Gettysburg's next victims as the locals jumped off to an early lead, and then staved off a late Dickinson rally to win 78-70. Lafayette used its superior height and shooting accuracy to subdue the Bullets 103-76 in a home tilt with Gettysburg trailing from the start. Gettysburg once again overwhelmed Dickinson 94-76. Behind Teti's shooting and Hockenbury's rebounding, the Bullets were able to maintain a comfortable margin throughout the entire game.

In the last two games of the season, Gettysburg bowed 84-74 to Muhlenburg, and then came back to win, 76-59 over F&M in the season's final.

and Captain Dick Hockenbury along with forward Joe Bierly. Also missing from next year's squad will be reserves Rudy Featherstone and Fred Alleva. Noticeable among this year's frosh squad are Del Warfel and Tim Cousins who will give next year's varsity some much needed height. Also bidding for starting positions next year will be Frank Gryzlecki and Charlie Hoffman along with Art Beck and Jack Hathaway, all up from this year's frosh squad.

With only five returning varsity players as a nucleus with which to work, Coach Grace Kenney came up with what was hoped to be a championship team. Champions in spirit and aggressiveness, but not in victories, however, the Bullettes turned in a record of three victories and seven losses.

Under the proficient coaching of Miss Faye Luckenbill, new addition to the Gettysburg coaching staff, the Junior Varsity compiled a season log of two wins against six losses. A decisive win over Lock Haven and a victory over Shippensburg were the highlights of the season as the Junior hoopsters were being groomed for varsity slots.

Women coaches, Miss Kenney and Miss Luckenbill

Chalking up their first win of the infant campaign, the Varsity outplayed Elizabethtown while the J.V.'s dropped their opener. In the next tilt, a reversed verdict occurred for, in the encounter with Shippensburg, the junior Bullettes returned with the win.

For the first time the Ursinus team took a place on the G-burg Varsity's schedule. The skilled and experienced Ursinus players netted eighty-five per cent of their foul shots, to only increase the one-sided tilt.

Both teams traveled to Millersville where the Varsity's unpenetrable defense dealt a defeat to the Marauders. The J.V.'s played a a hard-fought game, but in the final seconds, Millersville dunked a two-pointer to clinch the game.

Lock Haven and Temple nosed out the Bullettes. However, the Junior Varsity outplayed the Lock Haven contenders to collect their last win of the season. Journeying to Wilson College for their sixth away game, the Bullettes came back to the win column for the last time.

Despite the Varsity's considerable loss when Allene Brown, consistent high-scorer, was benched for the remaining three games as the result of an injury, the Bullettes threw quite a scare into the undefeated Shippensburg aggregation, succumbing to them by only three points.

In the Bullettes' encounter with Elizabethtown, the E-town basketeers copped a close and spectacular verdict. Racking up on inside shots and monopolizing the rebounds, the Elizabethtown J.V.'s overcame the G-burg juniors.

Seniors Carolyn Snyder, Evelyn Coates, and Allene Brown played their last game on the Gettysburg hardwoods in the Varsity's final encounter with East Stroudsburg.

In the winter

Favors prove to be center of interest at the ATO house

Time out for punch at Phi Sig

The highlight of the Christmas Houseparty Weekend, December 9th and 10th, was the fraternity competition for the house decoration trophy. Lambda Chi Alpha won the award with its depiction of "Christmas On Mars." The lawn of the Lambda Chi house was filled with little Martians gleefully awaiting their Christmas gifts while Santa descended from Rudolph, the red-nosed rocket.

Sigma Chi received the second award for its "Nutcracker Suite" decorations. Four huge candy canes hid the pillars of the house; characters from "The Nutcracker Suite" could be seen in the pine filled "Christmas Tree Forest."

The Christmas spirit was manifest in different ways at every house. Along with the traditional holly, mistletoe, and evergreens brightening the interiors, party-goers felt the "cold, cold of winter" in viewing the outdoor decorations which included themes such as "Snow Hop," "To Grandmother's House We Go," and "Santa Welcomes Ike." The religious themes, "Let's Put Christ Back in Christmas" and "The Babe Who Led the Way" were also depicted.

Cardigan sweaters, stuffed animals, huge glass goblets, crested mugs, necklaces, bracelets and jewelry boxes were given to the girls as souvenirs of the gala weekend.

THE 1956 SPECTRUM

This year the SPECTRUM has attempted to present an account of college activities and everyday events using the mode of week-by-week sequence. Beginning with orientation and registration in the fall through to events in the spring and concluding with the senior section, the SPECTRUM has recorded campus life as it evolved—in order to give a more vivid account of the college year.

Work on the yearbook commences when the new staff is announced in the spring. The editor and managing editor then spend several days planning layouts for the book with the publisher and company artists. The new staff functions as a unit in the summer with the publication of the supplement to the previous year's Annual.

Most of the photography and copy writing is completed in the fall, with the remainder of the material being finished in March, at the time of the final deadline.

Editorial work on the SPECTRUM is handled entirely by the student staff, advised by a faculty member, Mr. Paul Baird. A student business manager and staff handle the finances. This year much of the photography, also, was left to student staff members.

The yearbook is distributed just before exams in May —we hope a pleasant way to end the college year.

It may be trite to say it, but on the Gettysburg campus, "Everybody reads the Gettysburgian." Printed on a weekly basis, the Gettysburgian emphasizes campus events and campus opinion.

By the means of campus polls, letters to the editor and articles written by both students and faculty, the newspaper in the last year attempted to present all sides of many controversial subjects and ideas. Community, national and international news are, at times, reported as front page material, but primarily these are discussed in editorials and special columns.

Rated as a First Class college publication by the Associated Collegiate Press and the Intercollegiate Newspaper Association, the Gettysburgian has expanded its office facilities in the past year and has gradually grown from a six to a ten page publication. Entirely staffed by students, with Mrs. Katherine Taylor and Mr. George Larkin advising, the Gettysburgian offers readers accurate news coverage, a variety of features such as movie and record reviews and a bit of humor in cartoons and specialties such as the "April Fool's" issue and the "Baby Burgian."

G-BOOK

A necessary article for a freshman's orientation into Gettysburg college life during the first weeks of school is admittedly the G-Book. It provides valuable information for the frosh on campus organizations, sororities and fraternities, men's and women's customs, and campus rules for women students. The handbook acquaints the new arrivals with faculty members, college cheers, songs, tradition, and history, while even offering hints about suitable apparel for campus life.

Also included in the annual edition G-Book is a calendar of social and athletic events and a map of the campus. The G-Book is published by a student staff under the supervision of Chaplain Edwerth E. Korte.

MERCURY

The Mercury, Gettysburg's literary magazine, includes both student and faculty contributions in the field of literature. Cover illustrations for all stories and articles are sketched by students.

Published three times a year, students manage and edit the Mercury, with relatively little faculty aid. The artistic and literary skills of the student body are encouraged. This year the Mercury sponsored a campus contest awarding a prize of five dollars for winners in each of the three categories of humor, short story, and poetry.

Faculty and student articles, short stories, reviews, and poems are included in the magazine. Mrs. Katherine Taylor serves as faculty adviser.

CHAPEL CHOIR

Under the direction of Miss Lois Kadel, the Chapel Choir sings four mornings weekly during the chapel services, as well as for College Communion, Sunday evening vesper services, and special chapel services. The members of the choir present two complete programs each year, one at Thanksgiving, and one during the Lenten period.

Rehearsals are held on Tuesdays and Thursdays by the choir, which is open to all who enjoy singing, and leading in the worship service. Its function, thus, is worshipful as well as musical.

W. S. G.

Women's Student Government, the governing body of all Gettysburg women students, is the life stream of women's activities on campus. This year W.S.G. sponsored Women's Customs and Tribunal, "Heaven Sent"—the annual Dorm Dance, and May Day. The Student Council, which is the governing body of W.S.G., is composed of six representatives, plus the president—a senior, the vice-president—a junior, and the secretary-treasurer—a sophomore. Adviser to the group is Dean Martha Storek.

The Council meets weekly, and the entire group meets monthly to take up such matters as special permissions, disciplinary cases, new rules, and elections. Current officers of the group are Dawn Zukswert, president; Nancy Huntsberger, vice-president; and Marjorie Clayton, secretary-treasurer.

Seated: Dawn Zukswert, Dean Martha Storek, Nancy Huntsberger. Standing: Barbara Ensor, Jeannette Zulick, Barbara Binns, Ellen Billheimer, Audrey McMahon, Marilyn Kreider.

THE COLLEGE CHOIR

Possibly the greatest ambassador of good will for Gettysburg College is the College Choir. Under the masterful direction of Professor Parker B. Wagnild, the choir has maintained the recognition and prestige that makes it one of the best college choirs in the East. "Wags" has instilled in the group the professional touch in interpretation, discipline, and performance. As a result, the choir members in turn express this by their enthusiasm and cooperation.

At the beginning of each school term, auditions are held for the entire student body. Fifty-five members and four alternates are selected. To prepare for their performances, they have five practices weekly plus special sectional rehearsals. These hours of training are of the utmost importance for it is here that the group learns to blend their voices in preparation for personal appearances, recordings, and concerts on radio and television.

This year the personal appearances of the choir included a tour of the South where performances were given in Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, and Georgia during a twelve-day period. Since the members represent many denominations, their program is diversified and includes both religious and secular music.

The choir enjoys social functions during the year including a banquet held in May. Keys are awarded at the banquet to seniors and to those members of the choir who have served two or more years.

Student manager of the choir for the past year was Jack McGaughy with Dick Wurst as his assistant. Sara Jane Rowe was choir librarian. It was Dr. Harold Dunkelberger's job, as faculty manager, to plan the tour and all trips made by the group.

STUDENT CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION

Organized in 1867, the Student Christian Association is a fellowship of students seeking the deeper meaning of life and is membered by students of many denominational affiliations. Interested in world problems as well as campus affairs, the SCA's program is three-fold: service, witness and fellowship.

Christian witnessing is needed and is important on a campus such as Gettysburg and the association tries to witness to the student on an intellectual basis. As an important part of this witnessing, Religious Emphasis Week is held each winter, during which discussions are held for the entire college community. Important speakers from the Christian world come to Gettysburg for the program. Daily services in the college chapel as well as communion and Thanksgiving worship are all an important part of the SCA's program.

In the area of Christian service the SCA carries out an extensive program. Work is done by individual members at the Adams County Home and the AME Zion Church. Numerous other projects throughout the year include Christmas caroling and the Christmas program with the College Choir.

The third phase of the work of the SCA is fellowship—the extending of the hand of Christian love to all members of the College community. In the fall of the year, the SCA sponsors a program during Freshmen Orientation Week. Throughout the year members attend intercollegiate conferences, thus broadening their influence to other campuses in this area.

RELIGIOUS EMPHASIS WEEK

The annual Religious Emphasis Week was officially opened on Sunday, February 6, with an interdenominational service in Christ Chapel. The next three days, talks by Dr. George M. Docherty, of Washington's New York Avenue Presbyterian Church were featured in the lengthened chapel periods. Dr. Docherty's general topic, chosen by the Religious Emphasis Week Committee, was "Faith Amid Confusion."

Panel discussions were held Monday and Tuesday afternoons in Brua Lounge with faculty members and discussion leaders serving as the panel. Each evening during Religious Emphasis Week group discussions, led by pastors from the surrounding area, were held by the living groups.

W.W.G.C., the college radio station, is in its eleventh year of service to the Gettysburg campus by providing the students with the latest in music, news, and campus events.

Located on the third floor of Breidenbaugh Science Hall, the station now has nine rooms including an office, reception room, workshop, recording, music, and news rooms, and three broadcasting studios. For the second consecutive year it is broadcasting seventy-seven hours a week—eleven hours a day.

This year W.W.G.C. had the opportunity to record a half hour program for the Mutual Broadcasting Network. The program, entitled "Christmas at Gettysburg," was heard from coast to coast on Christmas Eve over most of Mutual's five hundred sixty-three stations. Featuring the Gettysburg College Choir and the Gettysburg College Band, the program was produced by the W.W.G.C. staff. All announcing and narrating was done by W.W.G.C. personnel.

A new feature this year was the Bullet Hole Series. Entitled "Afternoon," these variety shows were live broadcasts from the Bullet Hole on every other Friday afternoon.

Once again this year, W.W.G.C. gave play-by-play accounts of all home and away football games, and all home basketball games. The station is affiliated with the Intercollegiate Broadcasting system and the College Radio Corporation. Dr. Howard C. Long is technical adviser and Mr. Harry F. Bolich is business manager.

Foul play in the making!

Owl and Nightingale is the college's drama club and is well known for presenting each year several plays directed by Dr. Richard A. Arms. This year such plays as "Ladies in Retirement" and "The Caine Mutiny Court Martial" were enjoyed by students and faculty in Brua Hall. The former chapel has lent itself well to these presentations, and with the aid of the Gettysburg Woman's League it is hoped that facilities in the "Little Theatre" will be modernized and improved for the comfort of both dramatists and audiences.

The drama club's meetings are held on the second and fourth Thursdays of each month in Brua Hall. In keeping with its goal to provide opportunities for interested students to express themselves in all phases of the dramatic arts, the meetings provide many opportunities for writing and directing plays, acting, and stage managing. To further aid the students in gaining knowledge and experience in the dramatic arts, readings and skits are presented by the members at the meetings; this year the club embarked on a program of lectures on such topics as make-up, summer stock experience, and radio expe-rience. Another new project this year was the presentation of one act plays over the college radio network.

THE STUDENT SENATE

Representing the entire student body and performing the functions of a democratic campus government, the Student Senate is responsible for the betterment of student relations within classes and in extra-curricular activities.

This year the Senate has rewritten the Constitution and revised the system of elections for Outstanding Juniors and class officers. Highlighting their activities was a Jazz Concert on March 2 sponsored for the benefit of the College Community Chest Fund. On March 24 and 25 a Leadership Training School was held at Camp Nawakwa with Governor Theodore McKeldin as keynote speaker and faculty members as discussion leaders. The purpose of the school was to offer instruction and suggestions to campus leaders for the better handling of their jobs.

Mr. Pickering captures attention of group

The Social and Activities Committee planned definite social rules applicable to the whole campus. They also composed a system whereby all organizations must list members on a common record, enabling the Senate to keep an accurate and complete account of all the activities of each student.

Handling all these vital aspects of our campus life is a group composed of three faculty members and a representative and an alternate from each living group who meet once a week. The Senate is divided into nine committees thus distributing the responsibilities. The Disciplinary, Ceremonies, and Social and Activities Committees contain both student and faculty members whereas the Student Chest, Student Government, Publicity, Constitution, Customs and Tradition, and Campus Improvement committees are composed of students only. Mr. James Pickering, Miss Faye Luckenbill, and Dr. Clarence Bartholomew serve as faculty advisers to the Senate.

SOCIOLOGY CLUB

Anyone who is interested in the problems, relations, and human behavior of people is eligible for membership in the Sociology Club. The program, which is partly educational and partly social, is varied in an effort to interest all types of students. Speakers and specialists in social fields are invited to explain their work and its requirements. Exploratory trips to the Federal Penitentiary in Lewisburg, Pa. and to the State Mental Hospital in Harrisburg, Pa. are taken by the members to enable them to see the social conditions in operation and control. PRE-MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION

The Pre-Ministerial Association is opened to all students interested in church work or the ministry. The organization holds monthly meetings where discussions are presented by guest speakers.

In addition to sponsoring the college Sunday school and a radio program, this group works to deepen the fellowship between students preparing for the ministry. Many of the members often assist in church services in surrounding communities. Advisers to this group are Dr. Harold Dunkelberger, Dr. William Waltemyer, and Chaplain Edwerth E. Korte.

Despite a rugged schedule which included such teams as Temple, Navy and Hofstra, Coach Gene Haas's wrestlers compiled a 4-4 record for the year. Included in the victory skein were wins over Temple, Elizabethtown, Muhlenburg and Bucknell. The squad, in quest for its eighth consecutive Middle Atlantic championship, placed second behind Lafayette this year.

Gettysburg's first opponent proved too powerful as Navy downed the Bullet grapplers 29-3. Bob Walmsley was the only winner for G-Burg as he decisioned his man. The grapplers won their first match of the year as Muhlenburg fell victim to the locals 28-3.

Traveling to Philadelphia, Gettysburg ran into a tough opponent in Temple but came out on the long end of a 16-12 decision. Heavyweight Dick Mitchell clinched the victory for the Orange and Blue with a decision in the final match of the night. Continuing on the road, Gettysburg journeyed to Hempstead, Long Island where Hofstra, a perennial eastern power, gained revenge for a loss to the Bullets last year by pinning the Bullets 21-3 as Bob Walmsley was the lone individual winner for Gettysburg.

Back home in Plank Gymnasium, the Bullets defeated the Bucknell Bisons 27-3. Skip Lewis wrestled the outstanding bout for the winners as the 147 pound junior pinned his opponent. Franklin and Marshall was Gettysburg's next foe and the Diplomats scored wins in the heavier weight classes to defeat the Bullet grapplers 21-9.

Warming up for their final match against Lafayette, the Orange and Blue crushed the Blue Jays of Elizabethtown 30-7 as no less than six G-Burg men were victors. In the final match of the season, the Bullets traveled to Easton to meet powerful Lafayette and came out on the short end of a 17-9 score.

In the annual Middle Atlantic Conference championships held at Muhlenburg College March 2 and 3, Gettysburg put on a closing rush in the consolation matches to place second in the team scoring behind Lafayette and ahead of third place Delaware. Junior Bob Walmsley successfully defended his title in the 130 pound division by defeating Al Grande of Bucknell 3-0 in the finals. Co-captain Bill Sells lost a close decision to Paul Billy of Muhlenburg to come in second in the 177 pound class.

Despite injuries that cropped up continually during the season, Gettysburg College's swimming team, under the tutelage of Jim Lentz, compiled a respectable 3-3 log for the 1956 campaign.

Lentz's natadors opened their season by easily disposing of Loyola College of Baltimore, 54-29, in the loser's pool. The Bullets captured first place in all but three of the events. Lehigh's perennially powerful Engineers ruined the Orange and Blue home debut as the locals were subdued 64-19, and Dickinson defeated the Bullets 43-35, at Carlisle.

More serious than the loss, however, was the injury to Captain Chet McLaughlin, which kept him sidelined for the remainder of the season. The Bullets lost their third meet of the year at Washington as a powerful Georgetown squad came out on top, 53-29. The Lentzmen returned to the winning trail by edging the University of Delaware 43-41, at Newark, and defeating highly favored Temple University 49-35 at Philadelphia.

Gettysburg won the "Little Three" title for the third consecutive year by defeating Dickinson and F&M at Carlisle, the Bullets finishing with 40 points, followed by Dickinson with 37, and F&M with 16. The Lentzmen climaxed their campaign with a third place finish in the Middle Atlantics, losing out to Lafayette and West Chester.

I. F. C. WEEKEND

The twenty-first annual Inter-Fraternity Council Week end began on Friday night, March 11, with the pledge banquet and discussions on fraternity problems. Skit and song competition followed in the gym, with Tau Kappa Epsilon capturing first place in the skits with a satire on the discipline committee. Lambda Chi won the song trophy with "You'll Never Walk Alone." Following the skits, trophies for inter-fraternity activities were awarded.

Saturday saw initiations, banquets, and initiation parties. The weekend was brought to a close with a service in Christ Chapel on Sunday morning.

PAN-HELL WEEKEND

Panhellenic Weekend was ushered in by Pan-Hell Skit Night on March 9. Fun and frolic characterized this night in which all of the sororities presented fifteen-minute skits portraying themes as varied as life in a fraternity house to life on the planet "Cheese." Between the skits each sorority sang two songs. The evening was made even more enjoyable by the lively humor of mistress of ceremonies Sylvia Fenstermacher.

Highlighting the Pan-Hell Banquet on March 10 was a speech on "The Fraternity System—Its Basis and Its Ideals" given by Mrs. Joseph Grigsby, past national president of Delta Delta Delta sorority and present treasurer of the National Panhellenic Conference. Dawn Zukswert was mistress of ceremonies for the banquet; Winnie Shearer, the new president, outlined the work the local Panhellenic Council hopes to accomplish within the next year. Concluding the weekend the members, old and new, of the council met with Mrs. Grigsby on Saturday afternoon to discuss the organization and operation of college Panhellenic groups.

"Do You Remember" was the title of the musical comedy presented last April 16 by the freshman and sophomore classes. Directed by Carol Coleman and Lou Weislogel, and managed by Larry Gaenzle and Terry Wagner, the show was a three-act presentation set in the period from the roaring twenties, through the war years, to the present.

The first act featured flappers and the "Charleston," and centered around the "Five Foot Two, Eyes of Blue" theme.

Act two was set in the war years, with "Over There" echoing the era's spirit.

Songs such as "Ebb Tide," and "You'll Never Walk Alone" were featured in the third act, "Movie Premiere"; the whole show ending with an entire cast rendition of "It's a Big, Wide, Wonderful World."

Dancing, with music furnished by the "Clefsmen," climaxed the evening.

Highlighting the May Day festivities of 1955, was the crowning of Courtenay Lenhard as May Queen, with Grace Haabestad attending her majesty as Maid of Honor. Others on the court were: Virginia Feeser, Barbara Maurer, Barbara Binns, Jan Sachs, Jane Bannister, Nancy Huntsberger, Elaine Derham, and Joan Manges.

After the presentation of the Queen and her court, Women's Student Government president, Marian Lane, greeted the huge crowd. In keeping with tradition, the freshmen coeds danced and the Queen presided over the changing of the class colors.

SPRING HOUSEPARTIES

The jitterbugs go wild!

As perennial as April showers and lilacs, the festivities of Spring House Parties came to the campus in early May.

After each fraternity had decorated its house with spring freshness, each boy had brushed imaginary dust from his dinner jacket and each girl had sprinkled glitter in her hair, the Greeks were ready for a starlit evening of dancing. On Saturday afternoon the campus was almost deserted as seemingly myriad crowds drove off to Caledonia and Laurel Lake for picnics.

Later in the evening the trend toward informality continued with costume parties. Beachcombers, pirates, cowboys, marsmen, and waterfront characters went "house-

Sunday brought the end to another exciting weekend. Fraternity jewelry, mugs, and stuffed animals—gifts for remembering—were either tucked into suitcases or strategically displayed on bureaus as the last strains of music faded and study lamps were lit again

BASEBALL

Coach Hen Bream's baseball nine compiled a respectable 11-6-1 record against a stiff schedule which featured the likes of Navy, Penn State, Colgate, and Temple.

The Bullets traveled to Elizabethtown for their opening game and came out on top 4-2 behind the five-hit pitching of Joe Foulk. Colgate, a team that later entered the NCAA play-offs in Omaha, next fell victim to Gettysburg as Joe Bierley and Foulk combined efforts for a three hit 3-0 shutout.

Traveling to Muhlenberg, the Bullets were defeated 3-2. However, Gettysburg bounced back to win successive victories over Susquehanna 10-2, Bucknell 2-1, and Johns Hopkins 9-1 and earn a tie with Temple 8-8. Penn State defeated the Bullets 10-5 before the Breamen went on a four-game winning streak which included wins over Lehigh 14-4, Georgetown 3-1, F&M 9-0, and Dickinson 8-1.

Ken Polak raps out a hit in Lehigh tilt

After suffering a 10-2 setback at the hands of Lebanon Valley, the Bullets took a 3-2 decision from Albright before losing heartbreakers to Lafayette and Navy 5-4 and 1-0 respectively. Dickinson took advantage of Bullet errors and erratic hitting to win 7-4. Gettysburg won its final game of the season as Bierley scattered seven hits well to lead the Bullets to an 8-2 decision over F&M.

Bierley and Foulk, along with sophs John Schleicher and Wally Kuligowski pitched exceptionally well for the Bullets. Captain Oakey Schalick, Ken Polak and Fred Alleva led the hitting parade.

Don Griesel heads for the wire in the mile event against Western Maryland.

Following an initial loss to Western Maryland in their first appearance for 1955, the Bullet trackmen broke into the win column by scoring a lopsided victory in a dual meet with Johns Hopkins. In compiling 72 1/2 points to their opponent's 53 1/2, Gettysburg racked up ten first places with sprinter Ron Paul, hurdler and high jumper Les Eckman, and weight man Sheldon Yingst leading the way as double winners.

Coach John Yovicsin's cindermen continued their winning streak by capturing the Little Three championship by a twelve point margin over Franklin & Marshall and Dickinson. An unsuccessful appearance in the Penn Relays was sandwiched by second place finishes in two triangular meets. Les Eckman sparked the Bullet trackmen by garnering two blue ribbons in both the Bucknell-Juanita and Haverford-Albright frays. Gettysburg closed a creditable season with a smashing triumph in a triangular meet in which Gettysburg took 55 points to Lebanon Valley's 18 and Dickinson's 5.

Gettysburg's golfers faced a top-notch card of eleven matches as the squad, coached for the first time by Bob Davies, fought its way to a season record of 3 wins against 8 losses. Veterans Gordy Spillinger, Dick Snook, Paul Verdone and Enos Young, with promising newcomer Bill Bunce, played fine golf against some of the area's top teams.

The linksters opened their season with a $5\frac{1}{2}$-$3\frac{1}{2}$ win over Western Maryland before losing to Juanita 1-8, F&M 2-7, Johns Hopkins $2\frac{1}{2}$-$6\frac{1}{2}$, Penn State $\frac{1}{2}$-$8\frac{1}{2}$ and Bucknell 0-9. F&M and Lehigh defeated the Bullets $2\frac{1}{2}$-$6\frac{1}{2}$ and 0-9 respectively before Gettysburg downed Dickinson 5-4.

After placing third in the Western Maryland tournament, the Bullets defeated Albright 7-2 before losing their final match to Dickinson 3-6.

Last spring a period of dark, dreary days exemplified the pattern experienced by the Gettysburg varsity tennis squad, which vainly battled its way through a dismal one win—eleven loss record. The Orange and Blue racketeers opened the season with a 6-3 loss to Muhlenburg which was followed by an extended string of disappointing defeats. Mentor Gene Haas' netmen suffered 9-0 shutouts at the hands of Western Maryland, Bucknell, Georgetown, and Lehigh, coupled with defeats of 8-1 and 5-2 by Franklin and Marshall, of 7-2 to Elizabethtown, and of 8-1 to Western Maryland's Green Terrors, in a return encounter with promising sophomore Charlie Moyer providing the only bright spot.

After the close loss to Albright by a 5-4 margin, the Bullet netmen broke into the win column for the initial time with a 5-2 triumph over Temple.

Phi Kappa Psi won championships in softball, volleyball and football to keep possession of the intramural all-sports trophy awarded during the IFC weekend in March. The intramurals are composed of the various living groups on campus and offer students unable to participate in varsity sports the chance to compete in stiff but well rounded competition.

The following sports are offered in the intramural program: softball, football, volleyball, basketball and bowling. The living group with the most points gained in actual competition against other groups is the annual winner of the all sports trophy. Last spring, Phi Psi showed a well rounded attack as they won the intramural softball trophy for the second straight year. Second place went to Phi Delta Theta.

With fall came intramural football. No less than 14 teams, divided into two leagues, battled for the championship. Phi Psi was the winner of League A but only after having gained victories over an aggressive SAE outfit 6-0 and then defeating a spirited Phi Sigma Kappa team by the identical score.

In League B the competition proved equally keen as ATO and Phi Delt ended the season in a first place tie. In the intense play-off game, the ATO's came out on top 12-6 to dethrone the defending champs. In the Intramural basketball is currently underway with five teams yet sporting unbeaten records. Defending titlist ATO appears to be a strong bet to repeat although Phi Delt and Phi Psi continue to be strong contenders as the race for first place heads for the wire. With the advent of spring, bowling and softball will take over the intramural scene.

championship game, Phi Psi scored three times in the first half and then held off a determined ATO rally to win 18-12.

Vollyeball proved to be equally exciting as six teams were in the thick of fight for a play-off berth toward the end of the regular season. SAE moved into the finals in League A by defeating Phi Sig 2-1 in a play-off set. In League B, Phi Psi gained a berth in the finals by edging ATO. The championship set started off with SAE playing deadly ball but Phi Psi shot ahead to win 15-9 in the second game and 15-8 in the third game.

Delta Gamma copped the coveted 1954-1955 All Sports Trophy by winning first place laurels in softball as the group squeezed out Alpha Xi Delta to clinch the cup for the second consecutive year.

The 1955-1956 intramural season opened with the tennis tournament. Due to inclement weather, the final tournaments were played in the spring. Jean Brown, winner over Anne Marshall in the semi-finals, met the winner of the semi-finalist match played between Judy Sloterbeck and Nancy Hood.

Hockey season saw five highly contesting teams vying for the crown. A three-way tie resulted among Phi Mu, Chi Omega, and Delta Gamma at the end of the tournament play. In the final play-off game, Delta Gamma emerged the champion by overpowering Chi Omega, 4-0. Phi Mu, firing one goal while Chi Omega remained scoreless, filled the second place slot.

In the first swimming meet of the year, Chi Omega came through victorious by amassing a total of forty-three points as compared to Delta Gamma's thirty-nine, and Alpha Xi Delta's twenty-nine points. The following events were included: the 20 yard back stroke, the 20 yard free style, the 20 yard breast stroke, the 80 yard free style relay, the 60 yard medley relay, and two novelty races.

In the volleyball loop, eight teams participated instead of the usual five. Both Phi Mu and Alpha Xi Delta entered two teams, with the independent women being represented by the Tri-R team. Phi Mu's brilliant playing, sparked with impeccable spikes and blocks, brought them out on top, boasting an undefeated record. A tie for second place resulted between Chi Omega and Delta Gamma. Delta Gamma closed the season with one loss to Chi Omega's two. With the conclusion of the ping-pong tournament, the bowlers started their season with all teams out to defeat Chi Omega, last year's victor.

Top contender for the 1955-1956 cup was Delta Gamma, with a total of twenty-two points. Phi Mu and Chi Omega were trailing close behind with sixteen and thirteen points respectively, with basketball, swimming, and softball remaining as the deciding factors.

And so the year ended—in a very few weeks exams were over; studying had, for the majority of us, come to an end. The routine of classes, the pressure of deadlines, the writing of papers, were over. For many of us, jobs were waiting. For some, graduate study lay ahead, but for the most of us, this was the end of our formal education. It was a time for thinking over the last four short years—for beginning the longer period of "remember when . . ."

• Congratulations to the Student Body and Faculty of Gettysburg College for completion of another outstanding year.

• The Staff of your annual has worked exceedingly hard to give you a superb book and one which portrays the high lights of memorable activities.

• Neither time, effort nor expense have been spared to provide you with a permanent record, attractively presented and complete in every detail.

• To preserve the photography and literary efforts of the Staff, the best grade of materials have been combined with skilled workmanship to provide the finest quality yearbook.

• We are proud that the 1956 Staff elected us to help design, print and bind "The Spectrum." We have earnestly endeavored to fulfill the confidence placed in us.
